LEARNING AT CHARFIELD

This week's contribution comes from Bumblebee class (Y6). In the culmination of their topic around Kensuke's Kingdom by Michael Morpurgo the class wrote their own resolutions to the story and put themselves in the shoes of some characters.

Dad:

While my son was on that island, myself and his mother never gave up searching for him. Day after day, night after night, we searched and searched, never giving up.

Mum:

We were so worried when we found the deck empty. When we saw the fire on the island I couldn't believe my eyes, I just started to cry until no tears were left. Michael was in amazing condition.

Expert (Doctor/ survival expert)

It is a mystery how Michael survived on his own for a year, tests have come back and he is perfectly healthy. He must have learnt how to climb the tall trees and find the right food and water.
